

Colorado School Psychology Internship Consortium

CoS-PIC

The Colorado School Psychology Internship Consortium CoS-PIC offers 10-month, full-time doctoral internships beginning in August each year. The clinical training sites, located in the Denver metropolitan area provide a range of clinical and didactic experiences aligned with the APA Standards of Accreditation and future practice in diverse school settings. The training plan includes weekly shared experiences including group supervision and didactic seminars. The Program adheres to the 'Practitioner-Scholar' training model utilizing developmental, ecological, cognitive-behavioral, and behavioral theories and models of psychology.

The consortium includes the following training sites: The Adams-Arapahoe 28J School District (Aurora Public Schools; APS) and Douglas County School District (DCSD). Both sites may offer elective training experiences that differ by site. Elective rotations are offered dependent upon the needs and interests of the intern(s) and the availability of qualified supervisors.

CoS-PIC is partially affiliated with the University of Colorado Denver School Psychology Program; therefore, applicants from CU Denver will be given priority for interviews, followed by students from the University of Denver and the University of Northern Colorado school psychology programs. Applicants from other school programs are still considered and encouraged to apply. APPLICATION DEADLINE: December 15th

Internship Aim

The aim of the Colorado School Psychology Internship Consortium (CoS-PIC) is to prepare and retain high quality and culturally competent health service psychologists to provide behavioral healthcare to children, adolescents, and families from diverse backgrounds in school settings.
