ABOUT THE HANDBOOK

The purpose of the handbook is to provide students with general information concerning the Counseling Program at the University of Colorado Denver. It is intended to clarify relevant information, policies, procedures, requirements and expectations. At student orientation or through faculty advisement, students admitted into the Counseling Program are provided with information on how to access the handbook on our website. Each specialty track (program) has its own handbook as well.

The listed courses, requirements, and policies for completion of the Counseling Program are subject to change even after a student is admitted and students are encouraged to annually review the requirements and discuss them with their advisor/faculty mentor. If the courses and /or requirements change, these new requirements may be applied to students who are already enrolled in the Counseling Program.

It is the responsibility of the student to read and become familiar with the information in this handbook. To confirm that you have read this handbook and have understood the responsibilities, policies and procedures outlined herein, please sign the Informed Consent in this handbook and submit it to your faculty advisor or to Counseling Program Academic Advisor for inclusion in your student file.

COUNSELING PROGRAM INFORMATION

Description of Counseling Program

The University of Colorado Denver, through the School of Education & Human Development, offers Master of Arts programs appropriate for counseling work in clinical mental health settings, school systems, higher education, couple and family settings, private practice, and business settings. Information for current students about the University of Colorado Denver, the School of Education & Human Development, and the Counseling Program is available at <https://education.ucdenver.edu/academic-services/student-resources/program/counseling>.

The programs in Couple and Family Counseling/Therapy, Clinical Mental Health Counseling, and School Counseling are accredited by the Council for the Accreditation of Counseling and Related Educational Programs (CACREP). The program in Higher Education and Student Affairs aligns with the Council for the Accreditation of Standards (CAS).

The overall philosophy of the Counseling Program is to prepare master's level counselors, therapists, and student affairs professional with academic and professional credentials and personal dispositions to perform effectively in their anticipated work setting. Individual, systems, and integrated training are emphasized with a focus on what research demonstrates as being essential in effective counseling.

Counseling Program Mission Statement

The Mission of the Counseling Program at the University of Colorado Denver is to educate competent counselors who value inclusion and prize diversity such that they are prepared to offer a continuum of mental health services across a variety of settings for the benefit of the community and society.

The Counseling Program faculty strives to train counselors, therapists, and student affairs professionals:

1. Who are adept at providing high quality, contextually appropriate counseling and consultation services to individuals, couples, families and systems.
2. Who welcome and support diversity, including race, ethnicity, sexual orientation, spirituality, gender, age, ability and socioeconomic status among the faculty, peers, and clientele; who advocate on behalf of marginalized individuals and groups; and who are open to challenging the dominant paradigm by adopting multiple perspectives with the goal of becoming culturally responsive.
3. Who embody integrity and culturally sensitive ethics in their professional practice.
4. Who are committed to lifelong learning, personal growth, and professional development; and who advocate on behalf of their professional identity as counselors, therapists, and student affairs professionals.

Current objectives of the Counseling Program are reflected in the core requirements as dictated by national accreditation standards and licensure requirements. Through coursework, practicum, internship, and successful completion of the comprehensive examination, students are expected to satisfy overall program objectives and specific course objectives. Students should be prepared to meet course objectives and attend classes as scheduled. In addition, students must have access to computer technology in order to participate in online coursework and communication within the program. Students will be expected to be able to use campus email, online learning management systems such as Canvas, word processing programs, and programs required to view course materials such as PDF files. Students are encouraged to contact the Office of Information and Technology (<https://www1.ucdenver.edu/offices/office-of-information-technology>) if they would like additional training, support, or resources regarding the use of technology.

Overall Program Objectives

Program Objective #1: Cultural Responsiveness and Advocacy

- The program will exhibit a commitment to cultural responsiveness and advocacy, and will prepare students to practice professional counseling, therapy, and student affairs in diverse settings and with diverse client populations, as well as through curriculum content and student composition.

Program Objective # 2: Professional Practice

- The program will prepare students to apply, in an ethical manner, culturally responsive, evidence-based frameworks to their understanding and practice of professional counseling, as well as to the larger systems that affect the counseling profession and the clients they serve.

Program Objective #3: Professional Behavior and Ethics

- The program will prepare students for LPC, LMFT and/or School Counseling licensure in Colorado, through its commitment to providing the knowledge, skills and practices of culturally appropriate diagnosis, treatment, referral, and prevention of mental and emotional disorders.

Program Objective #4: Knowledge, Research, and Evaluation

1. The program will prepare students to be skilled, knowledgeable, and culturally responsive professional counselors, therapists, and student affairs professionals who implement evidence-based practices informed by research.

Student Learning Outcomes

Successful completion of the M.A. in Counseling prepares students to:

1. Describe the role and process of the professional counselor advocating on behalf of the profession and advocacy processes needed to address institutional and social barriers that impede access, equity, and success for clients (CACREP II.F.1.d; II.F.1.e).

2. Demonstrate understanding of ethical standards of professional counseling organizations and credentialing bodies and applications of ethical and legal considerations in professional counseling (CACREP II.F.1.i).
3. Demonstrate understanding of theories and models of multicultural counseling, cultural identity development, and social justice and advocacy and apply multicultural and social justice counseling competencies to counseling conceptualization, assessment, and helping skills (CACREP II.F.2.b, II.F.2.c).
4. Conceptualize systemic and environmental factors that affect human development, functioning, and behavior and apply theories of individual and family development across the lifespan (CACREP II.F.3.a, II.F.3.f).
5. Identify and describe strategies for assessing abilities, interests, values, personality and other factors that contribute to career development and apply methods of identifying and using assessment tools and techniques relevant to career planning and decision-making (CACREP II.F.4.e, II.F.4.i).
6. Apply theories and models of counseling and demonstrate competence in essential interviewing, counseling, and case conceptualization skills (CACREP II.F.5.a, II.F.5.g).
7. Identify and applies ethical and culturally relevant strategies for designing and facilitating groups (CACREP II.F.6.g).
8. Identify and apply ethical and culturally relevant strategies for selecting, administering, and interpreting assessment and test results (CACREP II.F.7.m).
9. Articulate the importance of research in advancing the counseling profession, including how to critique research to inform counseling practice (CACREP II.F.8.a).

PRACTICUM

Through closely supervised one-on-one and group supervision experiences, practicum students are given opportunities to synthesize and apply knowledge gained in their course of study and other academic pursuits.

ALL COURSEWORK must be satisfactorily completed prior to applying for practicum, except COUN 5915 for School Track students.

Because of the intensity and time commitment required, Practicum is a 6-credit hour course. In order to provide adequate client load and supervision for students, Practicum enrollment will be limited to 40 students in the Fall and Spring semester and 15 students in the Summer sessions. Due to these limits, students are not guaranteed a spot in Practicum, irrespective of course completion. Students must apply to Practicum by completing an online pre-practicum application as follows:

Fall Practicum applications are due by April 15
Spring Practicum applications are due by September 15
Summer Practicum applications are due by February 15

Submit Pre-Practicum Applications at https://forms.ucdenver.edu/secure/sehd\_practicum\_application

For additional information on practicum, please review the Practicum Manual at http://www.ucdenver.edu/academics/colleges/SchoolOfEducation/CurrentStudents/Resources/program\_docs/Practicum\_Manual.pdf

Please review the track-specific handbook for additional information.

INTERNSHIP

The Internship for graduate students is probably the most important and comprehensive professional experience in the Counseling Program. The Internship is designed to allow students to apply skills and knowledge they have gained in a supervised setting comparable to their ultimate choice for a professional work setting. To ensure that the student's individualized career goals are met during the Internship experience, arrangements for the Internship are negotiated between the student, the on-site Internship supervisor, the Clinical Coordinator and the student's supervising professor at the University of Colorado Denver.

POLICIES & PROCEDURES

The listed courses, requirements, and policies for completion of the Counseling Program are subject to change even after a student is admitted and students are encouraged to annually review the requirements and discuss them with their advisor/faculty mentor. If the courses and/or requirements change, these new requirements may be applied to students who are already enrolled in the Counseling Program.

New Student Orientation

Mandatory new student orientation meetings are held in the fall and spring. The meeting is scheduled on the Friday prior to the beginning of each semester in order to reach all students. Orientations aim to:

- Provide new students with information about their respective programs.
- Provide new students with registration information.
- Introduce new students to the staff of the School of Education & Human Development Academic Services Center.
- Provide new students with resources for the School of Education & Human Development, the University of Colorado Denver, and the Auraria Campus.
- Begin discussions regarding multiculturalism and diversity.

At orientation, the student handbook is discussed, students' ethical and professional obligations and personal growth expectations are explained, and eligibility for licensure/certification is reviewed. Prior to orientation, students will be emailed additional information.

Advisement/Mentoring

Each student admitted into the Counseling Program is assigned a faculty mentor. The name of the mentor is included in the applicant's email informing them of admission to the program. It is recommended that students contact the faculty mentor soon after being admitted to the program.

Students will have a faculty mentor at all times. In the event of faculty sabbatical, other prolonged absence, or in the event that faculty leave the program, students will be assigned to a new mentor who is familiar with the student's program of study, and students will be notified of their new advisor assignment.

Since faculty advisors are assigned at the time of admission, it is not unusual for students to find themselves having better fit with faculty other than their assigned advisor. It is appropriate and fitting that students try to find the best match they can between themselves and their advisors. If a student wants to change mentors, the decision must be made with the mutual agreement of the current and proposed advisors, along with the student requesting the change. After discussing the change with their current and proposed faculty advisors, the student must complete the Faculty Advisor Change Request Form, available at https://ucdenverdata.formstack.com/forms/sehd\_coun\_advisor\_change.

Email Listserv

Email is the official means of communication for University of Colorado Denver. The Counseling Program maintains an email listserv for all current students. The listserv is used by program staff and faculty to disseminate information to students, including but not limited to program updates, deadlines, placement opportunities, and other timely information for current students.

Remediation

If at any point during the student's program, the student is deemed at risk in terms of failure due to academic skills deficits, professional skills deficits, or personal issues that prevent a student from performing the duties of a professional counselor, a remediation plan will be initiated and documented (assuming that the concerns do not warrant immediate removal from the program as specified in the School of Education & Human Development's academic policies, the University's Code of Student Conduct, or as deemed necessary to protect the public). This remediation plan, designed to address the issue(s) of concern, will be:

1. Established by the student's faculty mentor with consultation from other program faculty, and when appropriate, the student's on-site supervisor, and other professionals who have relevant input into the situation;
2. Presented to the student;
3. Discussed relative to the faculty's concerns, and if applicable, protection of the public and field placement site; and
4. Agreed upon and signed by mentor, student, and the faculty member who will monitor the student's progress relative to the remediation plan, with notification to the program faculty.

More details regarding the evaluation criteria for professional performance and the remediation process can be found in Appendix A and Appendix B.

These remediation plans may involve any or all of the following:

A. For Academic Remediation:

1. Retaking courses
2. Engaging in tutoring
3. Study skills training
4. Test-taking training
5. Writing lab assistance
6. Spoken and/or written language skills remediation
7. Other academic interventions, as deemed necessary and appropriate by the program faculty

B. For Professional Skill Remediation:

1. Retaking courses (eg., skills courses, ethics, content courses)
2. Removal from placement site
3. Reassignment of placement site
4. Specific assigned activities in placement site
5. Writing reflection papers
6. Additional supervision meetings
7. Other professional skills interventions, as deemed necessary and appropriate by the program faculty

C. For Personal Remediation:

1. Personal counseling
2. Writing reflection papers
3. Writing apology letters
4. Additional supervision meetings
5. Other personal remediation interventions, as deemed necessary and appropriate by the program faculty

The remediation plan will include, at a minimum:

1. Specific activities to be completed;
2. Target measures of accomplishment, which will be documented;
3. A schedule of regular meetings between the student and the faculty member responsible for monitoring and documenting the remediation plan (if this person is different from the student's mentor);
4. A timeframe for accomplishment; and
5. Contact information for the faculty member responsible for monitoring the student's progress.

Copies of the plan will be retained by the student's mentor, the monitoring faculty member, the program leader, and the student. The monitoring faculty member will also retain notes documenting all meetings with the student during the course of the remediation process.

Retention and/or Program Dismissal

At the completion of the remediation timeframe, the faculty member responsible for monitoring the remediation plan, the mentor, and the student will meet to discuss the success of the plan. If the evidence suggests that the plan has been successful, the mentor and responsible faculty member will advise the program faculty of the successful resolution of concerns. If the evidence of successful remediation is questionable, additional remediation activities may be deemed necessary, with all the conditions of appropriate remediation as outlined above. All of these discussions will be documented.

There are four entities that have published policies that determine continued enrollment at the University of Colorado Denver. The policies that determine continued enrollment are itemized here and discussed below:

1. Those determined by the University in terms of behavior,
2. Those determined by the Graduate School in terms of academic standards,
3. Those determined by the School of Education & Human Development in terms of criminal background checks, and
4. Those determined by the Counselor Education Program in terms of academic success, professional success, and personal success.

Determined by the University

Students may be dismissed from the University for behaviors that have been deemed unacceptable by the University community. These behaviors are listed on CU Denver's Code of Student Conduct found here:

<http://www.ucdenver.edu/life/services/standards/Documents/CUDenver-CodeofConduct.pdf>

Some examples of these behaviors include, but are not limited to academic misconduct, endangering health or safety, sexual misconduct, destruction of property, dangerous weapons or devices, theft/unauthorized use of property, use and abuse of drugs and alcohol, and/or hazing.

Determined by the School of Education & Human Development

Evidence of a background check indicating criminal convictions that would preclude the student from obtaining a professional counseling license or professional school counseling certification in the State of Colorado would lead to a discussion of the student's purpose in remaining in the program.

Determined by the Counseling Program

If the student is unable or unwilling to complete the remediation plan outlined in this document, then the faculty of the program would have the option of using dismissal from the program as an action of last resort. If this action is taken, the faculty will:

1. Document all evidence leading to this decision;
2. Inform the student of the decision;
3. Inform the Section Head for Counselor Education and School Psychology;
4. Inform the Director of the Department of Educational Studies;
5. Inform the student of his/her/their due process options; and
6. Provide the contact information for the person to whom an appeal would be made.

Minimum Acceptable Grades

To maintain satisfactory academic progress, students are required to maintain at least a B (3.00) grade point average in all coursework attempted while enrolled. Courses in which grades below a B- (2.7) are received may only be counted toward the degree with faculty permission. Students receiving a C or below in any of the clinical skill building courses: COUN 5100, 5110, 5160, 5910, 5930, 6140, or 7100 will be required to repeat the course and follow any remediation plan that may be developed to meet the students' specific needs. If the student is not able to complete the skills course the second time with a passing grade, as well as follow through with Remediation, in a satisfactory manner, the student will be dismissed from the program.

Incomplete Grade Policy

An Incomplete (I grade) is a temporary grade, which may be given at the instructor's discretion to a student when illness, necessary absence, or other reasons beyond the control of the student prevent completion of course requirements by the end of the academic term. Please review the full requirements for an Incomplete on the Application for Incomplete Grade form for additional information on Incomplete grades.

Academic Probation

To maintain remain in good academic standing and earn a graduate degree, students are required to maintain at least a B (3.00) grade point average (GPA) in all coursework attempted while enrolled. If students fall below a 3.00 grade point average, either in any given semester or cumulative, they will be placed on Academic Probation and will have two consecutive semesters in which to bring their GPA to a 3.00. Students who fail to bring their cumulative/semester GPA to a 3.00 in the aforementioned timeframe may be dismissed from the program.

Academic Appeals Policy

It is the policy of the Counseling Program that students who disagree with academic decisions can follow the academic appeals process outlined here. It is not appropriate for students to appeal or otherwise seek recourse regarding academic concerns through other avenues, for example, contacting university administrators or staff outside of the appeals process.

The academic appeals process is in place for students to seek recourse for academic concerns, including course grade appeals, academic dishonesty, and/or honor code issues. The steps in the Counseling Program academic appeals process are as follows:

1. The student appeals to the individual faculty member.
2. If the student is not satisfied with the instructor's decision, the student contact the Counseling Program Academic Advisor to discuss available options.
3. If still dissatisfied, the student should follow the Academic Appeals Process outlined at <https://education.ucdenver.edu/academic-services/student-resources/academic-appeal-process>.

Change of Specialty Track

If after taking several introductory courses in the Counseling Program and/or changing academic or professional goals, a student wishes to change specialty track area, the student should discuss the change with their faculty advisor. After discussing the change with their faculty advisor, the student must complete the Change of Specialty Track Request Form, available at https://ucdenverdata.formstack.com/forms/sehd\_coun\_change\_specialty.

Transfer Courses

Transfer credit is defined as any credit earned at another accredited institution, either in the United States or abroad, outside of the CU system. With faculty approval, students may be able to transfer up to 9 semester credits (typically 3 classes) into the master's degree in counseling at CU Denver, if they meet the following criteria:

- Be graduate level
- Not counted toward a previous earned master's degree
- Passed with a letter grade of B- or higher (P/NP, S/U, or C/NC grades are not acceptable)
- Taken at a regionally accredited college or university
- Taken in the last 10 years. No courses 10 years or older may be transferred into the program

Students interested in transferring credits should discuss this with their faculty mentor and may need to provide their faculty advisor with the course syllabus, samples of work, and/or the course description from the catalog.

To transfer credits, students need to submit an official transcript and a Request for Transfer of Credit form. This form requires faculty advisor signature and can then be submitted to the Counseling Program Academic Advisor for a dean's signature and processing.

Course Waivers

If students have completed graduate-level coursework equivalent to course requirements, but those courses do not meet the criteria for transfer described above, the option to waive courses is available. With faculty approval, courses may be waived if it is determined that the course is redundant to the student's current degree program because the student has taken a similar graduate-level course with equivalent content at another accredited institution that cannot be transferred.

Students may not use work experience or professional development seminars in order to waive course requirements.

Students interested in waiving credits should discuss this with their faculty mentor and may need to provide their faculty advisor with the course syllabus, samples of work, and/or the course description from the catalog.

To waive credits, students need to submit an official transcript and a Course Waiver Form. This form requires faculty advisor signature and can then be submitted to the Counseling Program Academic Advisor for processing.

Waived courses do NOT mean a reduction in credit hours required, so students who waive courses must take electives in order to satisfy the total credit hours required for the Master's degree.

Leave of Absence

A student may take periodic leaves of absence from the Counseling Program if unable to enroll in courses for two consecutive semesters including summer, and must request a leave of absence using the form at https://forms.ucdenver.edu/secure/sehd\_coun\_request\_leave.

Program faculty will review the student's request and may approve it, disapprove it, or request that it be revised. Leaves of absence have been approved for students who become new parents, assume new jobs, are recuperating from an extended illness, are coping with a disabling or medical condition, plan to be out of the country, and/or are serving in the military (on tour). Students may want to contact the University's Disability Resource Services to determine whether or not an extension is available as reasonable accommodation. With an approved leave of absence, students are assured that they will be permitted to resume studies as planned. Students who discontinue coursework for more than three consecutive semesters, inclusive of summer, without arranging for a leave of absence will need to reapply to the program, and will be in competition with all other new applicants.

Re-Admission Policy

Students who are not granted a leave of absence and who do not enroll for courses in the Counseling Program for three consecutive semesters including summer must apply for re-admission to the Counseling Program. Students who are dismissed from the program are also eligible for re-admission. A student dismissed for academic reasons can reapply after six semesters.

Such students must complete a re-admission application and request re-admission by writing a letter to the program faculty explaining their absence. To obtain more information about the re-admission process, please contact Academic Services at education@ucdenver.edu.

Program faculty have the prerogative to grant or deny re-admission and may stipulate the conditions under which re-admission and graduation from the program occur. Students have 7 years from the semester they are first admitted into the program to complete the degree, including any leaves of absence the student may take. Only graduate-level courses less than 10 years old (taken as a degree-seeking student, in non-degree status, or at another institution) may count toward the Master's degree. Program faculty will make all final course approval decisions.

Licensure Endorsement Policy

Below is a detailed description of the Counseling Program policy for endorsing students for licensing, credentialing, and/ or employment:

Only students who have completed the required plan of study for the Clinical Mental Health Counseling Track will be endorsed for credentialing as mental health counselors, or recommended for positions as mental health counseling interns, or employment as mental health counselors.

Only students who have completed the required plan of study for the Couples and Family Counseling/Therapy Track will be endorsed for credentialing as marriage, family and couple counselors/therapists, or recommended for positions as marriage, family and couples interns, or marriage, family and couples counselors/therapists.

Only students who have completed the required plan of study for the School Counseling Track will be endorsed for credentialing as school counselors, or recommended for positions as school counseling interns or school counselors.

Students who wish to transfer from one specialty track to another must meet with their faculty mentor to develop a new plan of study. At a minimum, a student transferring between specialty tracks will need to meet all the requisite and prerequisite track and course requirements, as well as complete an internship in the new track before they will receive licensure endorsement in the new track.

See the track-specific handbook for additional licensure information.

Background Checks

All admitted students are required to submit fingerprints for a background check and continued enrollment in the program is contingent on a satisfactory background check. Students should follow the background check process outlined at <https://education.ucdenver.edu/academic-services/student-resources/background-check>.

Students who fail to fully disclose civil or criminal charges or who falsify their background check information in any way are subject to immediate dismissal from the program.

Plagiarism

Plagiarism is defined as the inclusion of another author's words, concepts, and illustrations in one's own work, without properly acknowledging the creator of this content. Students are expected to submit class assignments, papers, and examinations that consist of their own ideas and to appropriately cite material taken from scholarly resources. Appropriate citations include the accurate identification of the original author in the body of a paper or assignment and an accurate description of the source of the material in the reference section. Within this process, it is critical that students understand how and when to appropriately paraphrase material and when to use and cite actual quotations from the original author's work within APA standards (6th Ed., second printing or later). Self-plagiarism, the submission of an assignment or paper that was submitted for credit in another class, either in part or in its entirety, is also prohibited. Consequences for plagiarizing can range from a request to resubmit the class assignment, receipt of a grade of "F" for the course, or dismissal from the university.

Students with Disabilities

It is the policy of the University of Colorado Denver to provide reasonable accommodation to qualified students with disabilities. Whether a requested accommodation is reasonable will be determined on an individual basis by the Office of Disability Resources and Services (DRS) and the School.

Reasonable accommodations may include assistance in identifying volunteer note-takers, alternative testing (extra time, scribe, reader), textbooks in alternate format (Braille, enlarged, digital-audio), priority registration, and/or interpreters services.

For more information, students should visit the DRS website at <http://www.ucdenver.edu/student-services/resources/disability-resources-services/Pages/disability-resources-services.aspx>. The office is located in the Student Commons Building (1201 Larimer Street), Suite 2116. They can be reached via email at disabilityresources@ucdenver.edu or via phone at 303.315.3510.

Campus Assessment, Response & Evaluation (CARE) Team

The Campus Assessment, Response & Evaluation (CARE) Team was created at the University of Colorado Denver and Anschutz Medical Campuses to address the health and safety needs of students as well as the campus community. The purpose of the team is to assess whether individuals pose a risk to themselves or others and to intervene when necessary, and more generally, to identify and provide assistance to those in need. The team takes a preventative approach to risk assessment by offering resources, referrals and support to both the concerning individual and those impacted by their behavior. If you or a classmate are in need of help, please submit a concern at <http://www.ucdenver.edu/care> or call 303.315.3706.

Policy Exceptions

Students seeking an exception to any program policies outlined in this handbook must petition the faculty by submitting a Request for Policy Exceptions form at https://forms.ucdenver.edu/secure/sehd\_coun\_request\_policy.

Faculty as a whole will act on policy exception requests. Faculty meetings are scheduled for the first/third Wednesday of each month. There are no faculty meetings during the summer. In May and December the only faculty meeting is the first Wednesday of the month. Be aware that absent of extraordinary circumstances, policies will not be waived.

EXPECTATIONS & PROFESSIONAL DISPOSITIONS

All students in the Counseling Program are required to meet expectations of students, Professional Performance Standards,

Expectations of Students

1. All courses are graduate level and are intended to prepare students for professional roles in the mental health field and higher education. Therefore, students should expect rigor in academic work. This means that there will be a minimum of two books per course and a minimum of four products (e.g. papers, projects, reviews, group projects, and presentations). Students should be prepared to use APA style (6th edition, second printing) for papers and will be expected to proofread papers for correct spelling, grammar and syntax. Failure to conform to these standards will result in lower scores on projects.
2. Students should adhere to their degree plans and take three or fewer courses per semester, especially if they are working full time. Students who desire to take a fourth class during a semester must submit Request to Enroll for More Than Three Classes form, available at https://ucdenverdata.formstack.com/forms/sehd\_coun\_extra\_course. Students are encouraged to adjust their course load so they are not overextended. This guideline is stipulated in order for students to be able to devote sufficient time for class preparation and learning.
3. Courses in which grades below a B- (2.7) are received may only be counted toward the degree with faculty permission. Students who do not demonstrate the expected skills in courses focused on skill acquisition (COUN 5100, 5110, 5160, 5910, 5930, 6140, or 7100) by earning a B- or better will be required to repeat these courses. Students may repeat a course once. If the student is not able to complete the skills course the second time with a passing grade, as well as follow through with a Remediation Plan, in a satisfactory manner, the student will be dismissed from the program.

4. Professional behavior is expected in class. Faculty expect students to complete reading assignments prior to class. Additionally, faculty expect students to come to class prepared for the day's topics/discussions and to arrive on time. At a minimum, students should expect three hours of work outside of class per credit hour (e.g., a 3-credit course would require at least 9 hours of work outside of class). Students should also exhibit a positive attitude, active learning style, receptivity to new ideas, openness to feedback, flexibility, and respect for faculty, staff, site supervisors, and peers.
5. Confidentiality is the norm for all classroom interaction. Therefore, in keeping with the ethical guidelines of the counseling, therapy, and student affairs professions, information that is discussed about students, clients or others affiliated with the Counseling Program is not to be discussed outside of the class or setting in which it originated. Cell phones are to be turned off and students are expected to refrain from holding side conversations during class lectures or activities. During class time, computer use should be limited to note taking or other specific class-related activities. Faculty reserve the right at any time to ask students to put away computers, tablets, smart phones, etc. Technology for reasonable accommodations are always allowed.
6. If students have concerns about faculty members, the first step is for the student to make an appointment with the faculty member in question to discuss the issues. If resolution is not reached then the student should contact the University Ombuds person at 303.724.2950. If the issue is related to a course grade students may follow the Academic Appeals Process.
7. Students can expect faculty to return telephone calls and email messages within two business days of receiving them. If faculty are out of the office, they will respond to calls and emails within two business days of their return to the office. In preparation for a professional workplace, students are also expected to timely respond to telephone calls and email messages from faculty and others in the School. Students can expect faculty to return papers and exams within three weeks. Projects that are not picked up in the Academic Services Office (LSC 701) by students may be destroyed after one semester.

Graduate Level Writing

Counseling students are expected to write at a graduate level. The current APA writing style is required for all papers in all courses. Errors such as incomplete sentences, improper grammar and syntax, incorrect spelling, disorganization, failure to use APA style correctly, and failure to address required topics in papers are not acceptable. Papers containing substantive writing errors will not be read. Instead, such papers will be returned and students will be required to seek consultation with The Writing Center (see below) and to re-submit the paper by the resubmission deadline provide by the instructor. Instructors will deduct points at their discretion per assignment for papers that, upon re-submission, still contain gross errors. It is the student's responsibility to attain and demonstrate graduate level writing skills.

The Writing Center is available to assist students with improving their writing skills. The Writing Center is located in North Classroom Room 4014 and can be reached at 303.315.7355. Online consultations are also available. For more information visit <https://clas.ucdenver.edu/writing-center/>.

Professional Performance Review Process Rationale

Students are expected to conduct themselves in an ethical, responsible, and professional manner. They must be knowledgeable of, and always adhere to, the general standards of professional ethics and practice set forth by the American Counseling Association (ACA) as well as additional standards set forth for practice in specific settings (e.g. International Association of Marriage and Family Counselors, American School Counselors Association, American Mental Health Counselors Association, Council for the Advancement of Standards in Higher Education, etc.). The general and specific standards for ethical practice are listed on the ACA website at <http://www.counseling.org>. At the beginning of their academic program, students are directed to review these standards and seek any clarification needed from their respective faculty advisors.

As future professionals, the faculty expects students to be concerned about other people, to be stable and psychologically well-adjusted (personally and professionally), to be capable of effective interpersonal relationships, to be able to receive and apply feedback willingly, and to give feedback constructively. Further, students are expected to behave generally in a manner that demonstrates fitness for a role as a counselor, therapist, or students affairs professional. Finally, faculty expects students to be committed to continued personal growth and professional development and to demonstrate that commitment through self-reflection and responsiveness to supervision in all activities related to their degree program. We believe that it is ethically imperative that counselors be willing to do in their own lives what they ask their clients to do in theirs.

For all of the reasons cited above, program faculty, staff, and site supervisors will monitor not only students' progress in their classes, but also the professional characteristics that will affect their performance in the field. The purpose of this monitoring process is to ensure that all graduates of the CU Denver Counseling Program possess these characteristics sufficiently, so that they do not interfere with their professionalism or helping capacity.

Professional Performance Standards

Students' fulfillment of ten Professional Performance Standards is reviewed by individual faculty during each class, and by the entire Counseling faculty at the conclusion of the first year of study, at the end of Practicum, and during Internship. The standards include:

1. Openness to new ideas (including bias, power, and privilege)

2. Flexibility
3. Cooperativeness with others
4. Willingness to accept and use feedback
5. Awareness of own impact on others
6. Ability to deal with conflict
7. Ability to accept personal responsibility
8. Ability to express feelings effectively and appropriately
9. Attention to ethical and legal considerations (including use of technology)
10. Initiative and Motivation

Professional Performance Review Process

Evaluation of students is an on-going process based on Professional Performance Standards. Each Professional Performance Standard is rated on a scale of 1 = Unsatisfactory, 2 = Basic, or 3 = Proficient, as defined in the Criteria for Professional Performance Standards Evaluation (see below). Students receiving a rating below 2 on one or more of the Professional Performance Standards will be considered deficient in professional performance and subject to the following review process:

1. The student and issuing faculty will meet to discuss the Professional Performance concern(s). The student will be presented with a Notification of Professional Performance Concerns Form (Appendix A), on which will be listed the deficient rating(s), the issuing faculty's explanation for the rating(s), and descriptions of remedial actions that will be required. Signatures of both the issuing faculty and the student will verify their understanding of the concerns, the required remedial actions, and the schedule for completing them. Both the student and issuing faculty will retain copies of the signed Notification of Professional Performance Concerns, and a copy will be forwarded to the academic advisor and faculty mentor.
2. If a student receives more than one Notification of Professional Performance Concerns during the program of study or fails to demonstrate reasonable progress in remediation of deficiencies previously cited, the student will be required to meet with the issuing faculty and the student's faculty mentor in accordance with the procedure outlined in #1 above. Depending on the nature of new performance concerns and/or the reasons for the student's failure to comply with previously determined remedial action plans, the issuing faculty and faculty mentor will consult the full Counseling faculty regarding the development of alternative remedial strategies and/or evaluation of the student's fitness for continuation in the program. The issuing faculty, the student, and the faculty mentor will retain a signed copy of any revision made to the Notification of Professional Performance Concerns (Appendix A).
3. Faculty will initiate the Professional Performance Review protocol at any time for students who knowingly engage in illegal or unethical activities, or for students whose professional performance is deemed to present a foreseeable threat to the well-being of others. In such cases, and depending upon the level of perceived threat, the combined faculty may recommend discontinuation in the Counseling Program without following Remediation.

4. All faculty recommendations for the denial of a student's continuance in the Counseling Program will be forwarded to (and will be the ultimate decision of) the dean of the School of Education & Human Development. Students may appeal any decision via the Academic Appeals Policy.

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

To enhance graduate education and set the foundation for full participation in the counseling, therapy, and student affairs professions, it is strongly recommended that all graduate students become members of the professional organizations or associations which represent their area(s) of special interest. Most professional organizations offer reduced membership rates to students as well as the following benefits:

- Receipt of professional publications (journals and newsletters) published by the organization and divisions in which membership is held.
- Reduced registration fees for professional meetings (seminars, conventions, workshops) sponsored by the organization.
- Eligibility for member services (library resource use, legal defense funds and services, group liability insurance).
- Involvement with activities and issues, which are directly or indirectly pertinent to their profession (legislation and professional credentialing, including licensure, certification and program accreditation).
- Affiliation with other professionals having interests and areas of expertise similar to their own.

Many professional organizations have both state and national affiliations. Students may join one without joining the other. Divisions within the professional organizations serve specific areas of interest (e.g., marriage and family counseling/therapy, mental health counseling, or school counseling). These divisions can only be joined if one already belongs to the parent organization (usually at a small additional cost).

Most of the faculty are members of the professional organization listed below. Some faculty hold offices in the professional organizations or are on boards and committees of these organizations. Typically, students are required to obtain a faculty signature verifying student status in order to receive a student rate when joining any of these organizations.

Because the program realizes that financial resources are limited, students are NOT REQUIRED to become a member of one or more professional organizations. However, membership in a professional organization is an important aspect of professionalism, and therefore, students are STRONGLY ENCOURAGED to join one or more of the above professional organizations.

Honors Societies

Honor societies are rank organizations that recognize excellence among peers within a field or profession. Membership in a reputable honor society typically serves as verification of students' exemplary performance and achievement.

Chi Sigma Iota

University of Colorado Denver has a large chapter of Chi Sigma Iota (CSI), the Counseling Academic and Professional Honor Society International. The CU Denver chapter, Beta Alpha Omega (BAO) is active in conducting seminars, workshops and holding special events for counseling students. The chapter president, who is a Counseling Program student, may attend the National ACA Conference and represents the CSI-BAO Chapter. Eligibility criteria include enrollment in the Counseling Program, a 3.50 graduate GPA and at least 9 semester hours of completed course work.

Delta Kappa

University of Colorado Denver has a large chapter of Delta Kappa, the International Marriage & Family Therapy Honor Society, for students in the Couple and Family Counseling/Therapy program. Students are strongly encouraged to participate and pursue membership in Delta Kappa. Please visit <http://www.deltakappamft.org/Home> for more information about Delta Kappa, membership criteria, activities, opportunities, and benefits.

COUNSELING COURSE SEQUENCING

Courses in the graduate programs in Counseling at the University of Colorado Denver are designed to provide a gradual and stratified skill-building experience, beginning with the introductory course in your particular track, and culminating with the internship experience.

With this in mind, core courses should be taken within the first 30-36 credit hours in the program. Furthermore, course sequencing is utilized to maximize the learning and skill-building process. Students are responsible for reviewing the catalog and schedule to be certain that all prerequisites for courses have been taken. Some courses may be offered only once per year, or every other year.

ALL COURSEWORK MUST BE SATISFACTORILY COMPLETED PRIOR TO APPLYING FOR PRACTICUM, EXCEPT COUN 5915 FOR SCHOOL TRACK STUDENTS.

Any student who has not followed the above procedure and has registered for a class out of sequence may be administratively dropped from the class. There are several courses in the curriculum for which a limited enrollment is essential to maintaining a high quality learning experience for students. Those courses are:

Course	Max. per Section
COUN 5100 Counseling/Therapy Techniques	20
COUN 5110 Group Counseling/Therapy	20
COUN 5160 Techniques in Family Counseling/Therapy	20
COUN 5910 Practicum	12
COUN 5930 Internship	12
COUN 6140 Counseling/Therapy w/ Children, Adolescents & Parents	22
COUN 7100 Advanced Theories/Techniques in Psychotherapy	20

These maximum enrollments are monitored very closely. Students are expected to register early in order to secure a place in these classes.

INFORMED CONSENT
Counseling Program
University of Colorado Denver

As a student in the Counseling Program, you can expect to have a variety of didactic and experiential experiences that will comprise your degree path. This document helps you know in advance what to expect. By signing it, you are indicating you have been informed about aspects of the Counseling Program and are a willing participant in these learning processes. Please initial in the space next to each item and sign the statement at the bottom of the page.

1. I understand that the Counseling Program is committed to social justice and to its mission to increase awareness, knowledge and skills in multicultural and diversity competency. I understand that throughout my program I am expected to examine my cultural identity, and own biases and privilege. _____
2. I understand that I am expected to participate in personal counseling to improve my awareness of my own issues that may affect my ability to become an effective counselor. I understand I am entitled to counseling services on campus at the CU Denver Student and Community Counseling Center. This counseling is available to me at CU Denver at no cost. I understand that because some services are provided by students in the program, confidentiality and ethics dictate that students in the Counseling Program cannot use “walk in” services. I understand that I must email the Clinic Director to identify myself as a student in the Counseling Program when seeking services to ensure I will be seen only by designated clinicians who do not provide supervision to Counseling Program students. _____
3. I understand that I am expected to be involved in experiential activities that will require personal reflection. _____
4. I understand that I may be asked to disclose personal information about myself in the course of my training for the benefit of my own learning and that of my peers. I understand that I have the right to determine the content of my self-disclosures. _____
5. I understand that I will be receiving feedback and evaluation from faculty regarding my academic performance as well as my ethical and professional behavior. If I have concerns, questions about feedback, evaluation, or grades I agree to first discuss the issue with my instructor or the person providing the feedback. Also, I understand that CU Denver has an Ombuds Office with whom I can consult regarding options for resolving differences I am having with Counseling Program faculty or instructors, my faculty mentor, or the program leader. _____
6. I understand that I must demonstrate competency in counseling skills and earn at least a B in all “skills” classes in order to move forward in the Counseling Program. _____

7. I understand that the Counseling Program has a monitoring process in which my professional characteristics will be evaluated on a regular basis. I understand if there are concerns about my academic, professional, or ethical performance I will be notified by my faculty mentor and will participate in a remediation plan. _____
8. I understand that there are limits to confidentiality such that faculty must ensure professional and ethical standards are maintained. I understand confidentiality may be breached when faculty members believe I have engaged in unethical or unprofessional behavior or when it seems foreseeable I may inflict harm on myself or others. _____
9. I understand that I am responsible for finding my own internship site among those approved by the Counseling faculty. I understand a paid internship is not guaranteed and is unlikely. I understand that if a site is not currently “approved” by the university, there is a process outlined in the Internship Handbook that outlines the site approval process (Sites are not approved over the summer). _____
10. I understand that if I wish to take more than three classes per semester, I must obtain permission from the full faculty, using the form on the Current Students Page, and that this is outlined in the Student Handbook. _____
11. I understand that I must apply to Practicum and Internship, with deadlines outlined in the Student Handbook and Counseling News. I also understand that due to space limitations, I may not be guaranteed a Practicum placement during the semester of my choosing.
_____
12. I understand that the School of Education & Human Development has a Student Committee to which I can file a grievance if I believe a grade does not reflect my actual academic performance and I have not been able to come to a satisfactory solution with my instructor. _____
13. I understand that my course plan does not guarantee that I will be in a given class in a given semester. Factors such as low enrollments, instructor availability, etc. may cause a class to be cancelled, or I may be waitlisted and not granted access to a particular class.
_____
14. I understand that in early November each year, there is a Mandatory Advising Night/Internship Fair that I must attend. The date is published in each Counseling News and is announced via Canvas and the Counseling Listserv. _____

I have read the above informed consent and understand its contents.

AMERICAN COUNSELING ASSOCIATION CODE OF ETHICS

The American Counseling Association (ACA, <https://www.counseling.org/>) is an educational, scientific, and professional organization whose members work in a variety of settings and serve in multiple capacities. Counseling is a professional relationship that empowers diverse individuals, families, and groups to accomplish mental health, wellness, education, and career goals.

Professional values are an important way of living out an ethical commitment. The following are core professional values of the counseling profession:

1. Enhancing human development throughout the life span;
2. Honoring diversity and embracing a multicultural approach in support of the worth, dignity, potential, and
3. Uniqueness of people within their social and cultural contexts;
4. Promoting social justice;
5. Safeguarding the integrity of the counselor–client relationship; and
6. Practicing in a competent and ethical manner.

These professional values provide a conceptual basis for the ethical principles enumerated below. These principles are the foundation for ethical behavior and decision making. The fundamental principles of professional ethical behavior are:

- Autonomy, or fostering the right to control the direction of one’s life;
- Nonmaleficence, or avoiding actions that cause harm;
- Beneficence, or working for the good of the individual and society by promoting mental health and well-being;
- Justice, or treating individuals equitably and fostering fairness and equality;
- Fidelity, or honoring commitments and keeping promises, including fulfilling one’s responsibilities of trust in
- Professional relationships; and
- Veracity, or dealing truthfully with individuals with whom counselors come into professional contact.

The full ACA Code of Ethics is available at <https://www.counseling.org/knowledge-center/ethics>.
